

NOVEMBER MEMBERS' MEETING

Date: Sunday, November 21st, 8:00 p.m.

Place: Pandora's Box
323 Bank Street

Subject: "The Capital Theatre and other Movie Houses in Ottawa"

Speaker: Hillary Russell, Historian, Parks Canada.

Pandora's Box is one of the few surviving older theatres in Ottawa, and we understand that it may be converted into a restaurant. It is closed on Sundays, and we have been granted the opportunity to hold our meeting there.

HERITAGE OTTAWA GALLERY

The current exhibit at the Gallery at 62 John Street is titled "Disciples of Colonel By."

The Gallery is open Saturdays and Sundays from 1-5 p.m.

A new exhibit will be mounted and opened on Saturday, November 20th. It will be titled "Ottawa Treasures."
This exhibit will run until January 9, 1977.

We are pleased to announce that Jerry Hazelton has undertaken the responsibility for organizing exhibits at the Gallery. If you would like to be of assistance to Jerry, or if you have suggestions to offer, call him at 235-0838.

CHRISTMAS SUGGESTION

"Pioneer Churches"

A new book with text by Harold Kalman and photographs by John de Visser, published by McLelland & Stewart.

This interesting addition to your heritage library is a discussion of the church architecture of three centuries of pioneers in Canada and the U.S.A.

It has 192 pages, profusely illustrated,
and is available at your local book store for $25.00.

This Newsletter dated October 15, 1976.

ARCHITECTURAL DETAILS IN THE RIDEAU CORRIDOR

A study was undertaken this past summer on the above subject by two students of Algonquin College Restoration Program
under the direction of Jerry White.
Heritage Ottawa has joined with Algonquin in this effort. The study is being funded by Parks Canada under their parks awareness program. The report of the study, which concentrated on four representative buildings, is currently being prepared.
